Escape to the Wilderness !

“Live in each season as it passes;

Ah, the fall. Summer exits quickly this year as days shorten & we feel the cool breath of autumn on our faces & necks.

While each season has its charm, the delights of summer seem far too fleeting & when October arrives there are often things left undone around the house, office & outposts.

But warm memories & lake adventures don't have to end with the summer... they may simply wind down as our work takes over.

Rather than long for summer why not embrace the fall. For me autumn is the time for unwinding, exploring new hiking trails, wooded walks & of course hunting.

The fall is the perfect time for us to get things organized. For us it's having all the planes serviced well so they run smoothly throughout the summer months. Make improvements at the Outpost cabins that we couldn't get done during the busy summer months. Catching up in my bookwork.

What ever the autumn brings for you I hope the influences of the season warm your hearts & carry you through the winter.

All Good things must come to End

Well its that time of year again. I always have mixed emotions in the fall when we close up the outposts. As much as I am looking forward to some down time it also means that everyone will soon be heading home and Nestor Falls again becomes the quite, quaint little village once more.

Of course now that the customers have gone home for another season and we don't have to fly; we get the best weather of the season. I know its hard to imagine but it was sunny everyday and the temps were in the high 70's maybe even in the 80's for the last 3 weeks.

This year the gang stayed at Cairns Lake. I really enjoyed close up this year with the great weather it made spending time in the bush after a busy summer even more wonderful. I got to enjoy the peacefulness and the wilderness.

It just amazes me that sometimes we are privileged to catch a glimpse of nature at work. On our way from Keeper Lake to Onepine Lake Dave and I saw a Bald Eagle in McCusker Lake. I mean he was in the water trying to swim to shore. He had something in his talons but we were flying over head so I am not sure what he had but I am assuming it was a fish. It was something to see I tell you. Sure hope he made it to shore.

At Onepine we spent the day cleaning up the mess the beavers made. I didn't really count the trees they cut down but I am sure that it was at least 10. Of course they didn't care which ones they took down and some of them were chewed half way. The boys had to be careful because some of them could have fallen on the cabin or the planes. It was a real mess. I pray that they took all the tops that we left for them and moved their logging operation to other parts of the lake. Up side to this is that you should have plenty of firewood for the cabin.

We then moved to Larus Lake Bay cabin. That first night Dave and I came back early from closing the Beach cabin to get supper started for the crew. I was working in the kitchen when Dave came running up from the dock to let me know that a Bull Moose was swimming across the bay. Dave was wanting me to get some photo's and video's of the moose as he knows how much I enjoy these wonderful creatures. We could here the 185 coming in a distance. Mike was bringing Buster and Randy Rae in from Nestor Falls. So went running down to the ramp to through in a boat and headed towards the Moose. As they came flying bye the moose turn towards shore. In the excitement of it all we came to realize that we did not have a gas take in the boat. I did get a video of the moose and picture of us getting towed back to the cabin.

Dave and I want to thank each and everyone of you for choosing Nestor Falls Fly-In Outposts for your fishing vacation. We know that times are tight right now and that you could have been any where but you choose to be with Nestor Falls Fly-In. So thank you so much from the bottom of our hearts.

Till next month

Two men went bear hunting. While one stayed in the cabin, the other went out looking for a bear.

He soon found a huge bear, shot at it but only wounded it. The enraged bear charged toward him, he dropped his rifle and stated running for the cabin as fast as he could.

He ran pretty fast but the bear was just a little faster and gained on him with every step.

Just as he reached the open cabin door, he tripped and fell flat. Too close behind to stop, the bear tripped over him and went rolling into the cabin.

The man jumped up, closed the cabin door and yelled to his friend inside, "You skin this one while I go and get another one!"

We have started another website and would like to invite all of our guests to check out the new blog at:

www.flyinfishingblog.com

I have posted some of the stories and pictures that the guest from this year have sent to me which I think you will find of interest.

I am planning on taking some of the information left in the fishing logs and posting them on blog. I have some other help stories that I am working on as well so keep checking in you never know what you'll read.

Dave and I are hoping that we can get you to interact with us at this site. So please keep sending in your vacation stories, pictures anything you think would help us promote fishing, and best of all the solitude.

Please send your ideas to
